To Whom It May Concern

This letter is in regards to Eric Peterson and Peterson Architecture and Associates (EPA). We retained Eric's firm in early 2008 for our signature "PGA West Stadium Clubhouse" at the La Quinta Golf Resort and Spa, California. This was a strategically critical project for our ownership, operations and membership, and the first and integral component of a complete repositioning of the resort, golf experience, and the membership attraction.

While highly recommended, we had never worked with the firm before and interviewed many long established Golf Club House architects. We awarded the project to Erik based not only on his body of work, but through two interviews where our instincts sensed his confidence, energy level, commitment to project quality, design integrity, budget and schedule management. We took a chance and he did not let us down. We successfully opened this month for the Bob Hope Classic, with a transformational project, that has all of our constituents ecstatic about the look and the product, and met all of our financial and schedule objectives.

While the end product is a win, so was the journey. EPA was creative in establishing the concept, fast and diligent through the construction documentation coordination, effective in dealings and negotiations w/ local permit and building officials, aggressive in addressing budget concerns, and thorough in the punch list and close out of the project.

We highly recommend Peterson Architecture and Associates, and we look forward ourselves to continuing a collaborative and beneficial relationship with Peterson Architecture. Please let me know if I can add any further information.

Regards,

Bill
